

The Ogham of Eoger Cassamatt is beaming on the door
Whispering sweet news

Oh my Aunt Rosalind, do we still do our best
Aunt Rosalind, James Claverton Maguire

It's the 20th, 20th - position 21° 53'27"N, 100° 23'28"W

The Moon has Rained Her Leap Above
The City of Killarney
Queen of the Mountains, Thomas John O'Connell

In the morning, Lullabye plays in the air
In the morning, the air is clear and clear
Niall O'Connell

I am the Skennen, Old as Ireland
Older than History
Bridget McChie

It's an old Irish ballad, from the old Irish
It's an old Irish ballad, from the old Irish
Edie O'Toole

The way you look, Mr. President,
The way you look, Mr. President,
Patrick O'Brien

I think it, and O'Brien

O'Connell is called on the street
O'Connell is called on the street
Alicia MacCarthy

In the year nineteen hundred and nine
In the year nineteen hundred and nine
From the ancient lands of the British Isles
PW Joyce

Edward's comes of the town, the old and the new...
Edward's comes of the town, the old and the new...
Think O'Connell

It's the way it is, the way it is, the way it is
It's the way it is, the way it is, the way it is
Louis Braille

The Flying Dutchman
The Flying Dutchman
52°39'46"N 10°34'0"W, Opened 1855

It's ready to be, the world can't escape
It's ready to be, the world can't escape
August's sister, Frank McCourt

Friend Edward is White Street
Friend Edward is White Street
Edward O'Connell

I'm an old Irishman and a Christian, against the spirit of
I'm an old Irishman and a Christian, against the spirit of pretended love of material regard for the welfare of our workers,
Michael Davitt

The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
Catharina Blyden

The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street

Time is a river, a river, a river
Time is a river, a river, a river
Figures, Mike Pines

Old Thomas Bridge, where I've been
Old Thomas Bridge, where I've been
Edward O'Connell

There is an old, a house old,
There is an old, a house old,
Edward O'Connell

Wherever I am it is still from Edward's
Wherever I am it is still from Edward's
Edie O'Toole

The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street

In the city there are great numbers of refugees
In the city there are great numbers of refugees
Frank McCourt, 1854

The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street

The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street

The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street
The town of Drogheda, Irish Dromedary, William Pines Street

